Dear Print Technician

I was told today that you are taking some time off in order to take some graphics courses to build on your already considerable technical skills. I must say I applaud your personal initiative, and am certainly in favour of continuing education, but I cannot really see how graphics courses will benefit you in your work here. I do remember you telling me at your initial interview that you were interested in.

Perhaps this is still your intention, and if so, I wish you the best, although I caution you that business is not for everyone. Your service here has been exemplary, and I hope that after some thought you will decide to come back to us. there will eventually be opportunities for you to advance here if you are patient. In any event please let me know as soon as you have settled on a course of action. having your own business one day.

Sincerely,

Colin Wadell
Vice-President
