

is now hiring a

SALES ASSISTANT

International Sales Division

We are looking for someone special—a glowing personality who enjoys hard work, can think on their feet, and is willing to travel extensively to assist our International Sales Team at trades fairs and special presentations worldwide.

Duties will include:

- Responsibility for maintaining display booths, samples, and materials, including arranging shipping and set-ups on site.
- Maintaining records and files for Sales Team.
- Greeting interested clients and introducing them to appropriate sales rep.
- Assisting in demonstrations and presentations as directed .
- Representing Futura as a friendly and professional company to the public.
- And other duties as assigned.

Public relations, business, or advertising experience is valuable, and foreign language skills are very desirable, but high energy and an outgoing, helpful personality are the main qualifications.

If you think you have what it takes to pursue an exciting career in international sales call Diane Plummer at 241-568-3985 for an interview appointment.