

CERTIFIED CONTACT LENS TECHNICIAN

seeks

LICENCED OPTICIAN

for partnership venture in Ophthalmic Dispensing

I am a certified optician and lens technician with three years experience in contact lens production and fitting for a very large national optical chain. I am ready to try self-employment if I can find the right partner. I presently have an option on a five year lease of a well-equipped storefront location near the university campus and developing residential areas. I am able to arrange some capital financing, and have good financial management skills.

You are a licenced optician with at least two years experience in ophthalmic dispensing, forever young, personable, fashion conscious, and energetic. You would be responsible for eyeglasses and front desk duties. Do you have a business dream and the skills to make it work? Let's get together and find out if we see eye to eye!
